Pears' Soap

has been established in London TWO YEARS ago as a COMPLEXION and as a SHAVING SOAP, has obtained INTERNATIONAL AWARDS, and is now sold in every city of the world.

It is the purest—therefore finest.

The most delicate, and therefore

The best and most popular of all soaps for GENERAL TOILET PURPOSES; and for use in the nursery it is recommended by thousands of intelligent mothers throughout the civilized world, because while serving as a cleanser and detergent, its excellent properties prevent the chafing and discomforts to which infants are so liable. PEARS' SOAP can now be had of nearly all Druggists in the United States: BUT BE SURE THAT YOU GET THE GENUINE, as there are many inferior imitations.

ANOTHER BURGLARY.

A House in Cherryfield Entered and Valuable Property Secured.

CHERRYFIELD, Oct. 15. Another was added last night to the series of burglaries that have been committed in this town within a few months. The dwelling of Horace Willey, deputy sheriff, was entered and $400 in money and a gold watch and chain were taken from his clothes in his sleeping room. Entrance was effected through a cellar window. There is no clue to the thieves.

MAINE SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Second Day's Convention—Large Number Present.

WATERVILLE, Oct. 15. The Sunday School convention began its second day's session Wednesday morning under bright skies and with a largely increased attendance. The committee in charge are hard pressed to find accommodations for the throngs.

The ceremonies of the day began with a devotional exercise at 9 o'clock, followed by an excellent address upon "The Sunday School of To-morrow," by Rev. A. E. Winship, of Boston. Following the address of Mr. Winship was an interesting address by Miss Mary Wheelock, of Boston, upon "The Eyes of the Understanding."

The afternoon was ushered with reports from the international convention at Pittsburg by clergymen from Portland, Rockland and Woodfords.

MAINE UNIVERSALISTS.

State Sunday School Convention in Auburn.

LEWISTON, Oct. 15. The Maine State Universalist Sunday school convention met in Auburn to-day. After organization Rev. G. G. Hamilton, the secretary, made his annual report and Rev. W. R. French read a paper on the study of the old testament.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.

Death of Horace Bryer Sent to Massachusetts.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 15. Horace Bryer, one of the crew of the steamer Fearless, died last night at Newport hospital from injuries received by falling into the hold. He leaves a widow in Kennebunkport, Maine, to whom he had been married but three months. His body was sent there to-day.

CONTINUED REMARKABLE.

Large Catches of Mackerel in Saco Bay.

BIDDEFORD, Oct. 15. Large catches of mackerel are being made in Saco bay. Mackerel have not been so plenty here so late in the season for thirty years.

CONCLUSIVE ACTION.

Polygamy Buried, Never to be Resurrected.

Country to be Congratulated on This Move.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. The Independent to-day publishes telegrams received from President Woodruff, of the Mormon church, and Gov. Thomas, of Utah, concerning the action of the Mormon conference forbidding polygamy. Woodruff says the action of the conference is conclusive. The church has no disposition to violate the laws or defy the Government. Gov. Thomas says polygamy has been buried, never to be resurrected.

The country is to be congratulated on the triumph of the Christian home in Utah.

GREAT LOSSES

Sustained by People from the Cloud Burst.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 15. Further particulars from the interior show that in Braxton county great losses have been sustained by farmers and lumbermen by the cloudburst of Sunday.

BURGLARS AT WORK

But Got Nothing for their Pains at Exeter.

EXETER, N. H., Oct. 15. Burglars last night entered the National bank, post office, Crane's drug store, Sleeper's jewelry store and the Exeter Coal company's office. The safes were all tampered with but nothing of value was secured by the thieves.

MAYOR FOUND GUILTY

Of Assault on Reporter Crowley—Sentence Deferred.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Oct. 15. The jury in the case of Mayor Patrick J. Gleason, charged with assaulting reporter Crowley, returned a verdict this afternoon of guilty of assault in the third degree. Sentence was deferred until Monday. The penalty is imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than $250, or both.

JACK McAULIFFE ARRESTED

On Charge of Causing his Wife's Death—Released Later.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. Jack McAuliffe, the light weight prize fighter, was arrested this morning on suspicion of causing the death last night of his wife "Kate Hart," the actress of the "Natural Gas" company.

An autopsy by Dr. Doolin showed that the woman died from heart disease. McAuliffe was released.

UNFORTUNATELY INTERRUPTED.

Attempt to Murder a Foot Guard in a Connecticut Town.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 15. An autopsy on the body of William Wylen, which was found in the Still river, at Beaver Brook, last Sunday, was held last night. The medical examiner finds that death was caused by a fractured skull and says that there is no doubt whatever that the man was murdered.

Several clues are now being followed up by the police.

A MAN MISSING.

Much Fear Felt that he Committed Suicide.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. A special from Chicago says that Dr. Clinton T. Cook, president of Hamline college, has been missing since Thursday. He left Sioux City, Iowa, ostensibly attending an educational meeting in that town, but he did not appear there. Much fear is felt that he has committed suicide.

ARRIVED IN FRANCE.

Dillon and O'Brien are now Safe on Foreign Soil.

Nationalists Rejoiced as to Manner of Escape.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 15. During the proceedings in the court here to-day Healy, one of the counsel for the defendants in the conspiracy case, received a telegram from Dillon and O'Brien announcing their safe arrival at Cherbourg, France, to-day.

The utmost reticence was maintained among the Nationalists as to the manner in which Dillon and O'Brien eluded the vigilance of the police and effected their escape from the country.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

State Convention of Baptists.

LACONIA, Oct. 16. The second day of the Baptist anniversaries increased the attendance. The State convention was called to order by David Heald, of Milford. After devotion, addresses of welcome were delivered by Rev. T. S. Johnson of the local church; Rev. L. Malvern, for the New Hampshire Free Baptists; Rev. G. A. G. Thurston, of Laconia, for the Congregational churches, and Rev. Mr. Robins, of Concord, for the Methodists.

The report of Secretary Rev. W. Harris, of Antrim, shows eighty-two churches, with a membership of 8,720, an increase of 143.

A Superintendent Resigns.

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 15. Washington Anderson, superintendent of the Dickson Print Works here for the past six years, tendered his resignation this morning to take effect November first. James Crowley assistant, will take his place.

THE "CLERGYMAN'S CASE."

A Sensation Caused in Boston—Licenses of Park Theatre Revoked.

BOSTON, Oct. 15. Several members of the board of aldermen last night witnessed the performance of "The Clergyman's Case," at the Park Theatre, and as a result the management of the theatre were notified to-day that their license was revoked. This action was taken at a special meeting of the board of aldermen this afternoon, called for the purpose of considering the morality of the play. The management of the theatre was given a hearing, at which members of the board expressed themselves as strongly against allowing the play to proceed, notwithstanding the protest of the management that its stoppage would result in great financial loss.

The corporation counsel advised the board that they had a right to revoke the license of the theatre at order to that effect was passed. It is within the power of the committee on licenses of city government to grant a new license and it is understood that the Park Theatre management will ask for another license and put another play on the boards.

LISBON, Oct. 15. The Regenerators and Progressists have agreed to maintain an expectant but benevolent attitude towards the new ministry. The Cabinet has announced its determination to prohibit the Republican press from using scurrilous language regarding the King of Portugal or Great Britain.

SOAP SWINGS THE GATES AJAR.

Next to pronounced sin, I hold dirt to be the greatest barrier to heaven. When I read of the Golden City with its gates of pearl, and white-robed angels singing to the strains of the tuneful harp, I wonder how an unclean man or woman can think of entering there. I have always told my wife to be liberal in her expenditures for soap, and to be liberal in its use. She says, however, that with Brussels soap she can be both neat and economical, and therefore the Brussels is a necessity in life.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

In all diseases of the mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, ocelle, powders or syringes because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than fallacious. BREWER LOCALS.

Mr. N. J. Bubier returned yesterday from a trip to Boston via the steamer Penobscot.

Mr. H. B. Washburn and family, who have been on a visit to Boston, have returned home.

The schooners Annie R. Lewis and Ira Orient on the beach at Warren's dock yesterday to receive repairs.

Mrs. C. O. Farrington and Miss Alice M. Farrington returned on the boat yesterday from a visit of a week in Boston.

The schooner Bill Stowe has finished loading lea at the J. F. Woodbury lee Company's houses and is being on a deck load of lathe.

Capt. S. H. Harbour left yesterday for Rockland, where he will board the steamer Henry Hardison and pilot her up the river. The Harrison has been withdrawn from the Bluehill line and will be succeeded during the winter by the Castine.

The barkentine Hattie E. Bunkell is loading a cargo of long lumber and lathe at F. W. Ayer's mill for Philadelphia. The schooner Annie P. Chase finished loading long lumber and cleared yesterday for New York. The schooners Dick Williams and [illegible] are taking cargoes at the mill, the former for New Bedford and the latter for Boston.

Mr. Charles Batchelder met with an accident the other day which will cause him to have a lame hand for a while. As he was leading a cow by a rope he attempted to hold the animal by winding the rope about his hand, with the result that his fore-finger was quite badly lacerated, requiring four or five stitches being taken by the physician who dressed the injured member.

Messrs. E. & I. K. Stetson, at the marine railway, have got the frame of the addition to their lower ice houses up, and are putting on the frame of the large roof which is to cover the whole house. The new barkentine is to be painted black and the painters are now putting on a coat of paint of that color. Mr. Edward Angley is at work on the rigging for the vessel and expects to have it all done and boat on in about three weeks.

The wood preparing room at the pulp mill is all finished and the principal work now remaining is to put in the machinery. All the burned portions of the mill have been rebuilt and the carpenters are now building monolithic covers for the three hydraulic outlets of the mill, with roomy doors which will face the buildings, and the hydrants will thus be always accessible, even when the snow is deepest, and ready to use at a moment's notice, as there will have to be no digging of snow to clear away about them.

The little son of Mr. W. R. Burstow had a narrow escape from a serious accident the other day. Mr. Burstow had been heating some water until it was nearly boiling with which he was going to shave some meal and had just taken the pail from the stove when his little boy ran against the pail and the scalding water was thrown all over him. It was the work of but a moment for Mr. Burstow to tear the boy's clothing off and he did it just in time as in a second more he would have felt the hot water scalding him.

Marshal Lunt continues in his course of stopping the disorderly conduct complained in a recent issue of THE WHIG and yesterday arrested David Mullen, who was arraigned for violation of the city ordinances and fined $5 and for drunkenness was fined $2 and costs, both of which he paid. When a few more of those who have been causing such disorderly scenes in our otherwise quiet city, perhaps they will begin to realize that Marshal Lunt is in his office to keep the peace and is determined to keep it if it is in his power.

We were shown, yesterday, at Sargent & Herrick's store at South Brewer, an interesting souvenir of the time when we had no postage stamps, and all postage, unless paid in advance, had to be produced when the letter was delivered. The late D. Sargent was postmaster in the year 1850, and in the office, where all could read who wished, was a blank book, which is now on exhibition at the store, and on this the postmaster wrote the names of those for whom letters had arrived that day, with the amount of postage due opposite, the postage being scratched out to show that the letter had been delivered. On some letters, which had evidently come a considerable distance, forty cents were to pay, while on others not more than two cents was the charge. The ink was clear and very dark for the length of time since Mr. Sargent wrote it.

The Deluge boys arrived home from Bath yesterday morning, not at all discouraged by their poor fortune in not winning the prize in the firemen's muster, but determined to try again when opportunity offers. At the last two races in which they have run there seems to have been an evil star hanging over them, as something entirely unexpected has happened both times, defeating their plans and causing them to lose the race. At Bath the best time was 25 seconds and the time of the Deluge company to the hydrant is said to have been 21 seconds, giving time to win, but they had acquired such a speed that the man who was to hold the hose back while it was coupled to the hydrant was unable to do so and much valuable time lost, so that they made the slowest of any. It was unfortunate, but they will try to do better next time.

WEDDING BELLS. There was a pleasant wedding at the Congregational parsonage last evening, when Rev. B. E. Merrill, in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties, united the contract which made Mr. Melvin W. Wilcraft and Miss Annie V. Bean husband and wife. Both of the young people are residents of Brewer. Mr. Wilcraft holds the grade and shipping clerk in the office of Burnell's Steam Gill Agency at Bangor, and Miss Bean being one of Brewer's popular young ladies. The love and esteem in which they are held by their friends is shown by the large number of valuable and beautiful presents which they received, a reception being tendered the guests of the young couple's new home in Wilson street. They will go to housekeeping at once, and have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy married life.

The Magazines.

Noticeable in this month's ST. NICHOLAS is the article Through a Detective Camera, written by Mr. Black, the well-known amateur, and illustrated with characteristic bits of child life; the street scenes are as perfect as insects in amber; the hokey-pokey ice-cream man is a genre picture complete, and his Italian baby is a history of a down-trodden race in miniature. Frederic Villiers, the famous English war-correspondent, tells of his narrow escape from asphyxia, because of a Copper Bowl or enchanting-grade charcoal used in warming an inn room at a Servian hotel. Mr. Pillsbury's forcible and peculiar dog-story Baby Bluetroute his text.

A real juvenile story is Betty's By and By, in which Julia Lippmann tells a boarding house's experience in that great rendezvous of government institution. Mr. Deemell's quietly humorous drawing shows the youthful postponers engaged to squaring their accounts. Another story with a city moral administered in a well-flavored medium is The Governor's Little Donkey, by Rose Woodbridge Mickwitz. This tells of the substitution of a pet donkey for the overworked drudge of a tinker's cart. It is the sort of story that is sure to make young people think, and yet not set them to worrying.

A novelty is An Old English Folk-song, an application of Wagner's principles of operatic composition to the awful crime of that little peddler whose name was Stout. It is more, however, than a musical joke, for the musical composition is of unusual merit.

Other features are a short illustrated life of Edward the Sixth; a toothsome poem by James Whitcomb Riley; a bright story by J. O. Davidson, telling how a Yankee with a ride proved himself a match for a Chilian torpedo boat; a clever poem designed to teach the hollowness of kings' and queens' grandeur, and many other bright pictures, clever bits in verse, well-sustained dramatic attractions, and all the rentals. The man who can not find interesting reading in this number should consult his physician.

After the spirited ballad of Paging Jean, by Caroline D. Swan, which opens the October WIDE AWAKE, the reader comes upon a good football story, a story of Phillips Exeter Academy, written by Mrs. Arlette A. Knight, and entitled John MacGregor's Lesson; curiously enough while this describes a football game between this school and Phillips Academy at Andover, the chapters of Mr. Ward's serial, The New Senior at Andover, chronicle a base ball contest between the same two schools; the first story is illustrated from life photographs of a typical "team" from each school.

Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford is at her best in the war-story One Good Turn. An Adirondack Camp, by Margaret Sidney, is a breezy chronicle of a portmanteau jolly time had by some particularly jolly young people. Jack and Jessie's Jackstaw, by Alice E. Wells, is one of the brightest of the School and Playground series of stories, while The Scarlet Specter of Sandy Ridge is perhaps the strongest yet of Miss McLeod's Acadian Old-Folk Lore tales. Bree Lizard's Cousin, by Martha Young, is a quaint bit of story such as Southern readers like to tell. Alexander Black's Camera Club has given the photographs by amateurs. A Quiet Expedition, by Henry Cleveland Wood, brings back to notice an old-time species of sewing-work, and gives twenty-four popular counterpane designs. A Story of 1813, Part 1, by Olivia Bailey Seward, is a true story of Commodore Perry and an ancestor of the author. Mrs. Claflin's Margaret-Patty Letters, Mr. Bridgman's Pak-Wudjie tale of Father Maple's War-Paint, Miss Steinbacher's sketch of Jack Weatherwax, Hero, Mrs. Bayard's Pets of the Treasury, Helen North's Letter-Writing for Young Folks, and Mrs. Sallie Joy White's article upon Insurance and Advertising agencies as business openings for women, together with the Men and Things department, complete the prose of the number. The poems are by Graham R. Tomson, Mrs. Whitcomb Stone, Kate Putnam Osgood, and Mary E. Wilkins.

Wide Awake is $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop Company, Publishers, Boston.

PATERSON'S MAGAZINE for October is on our table. The steel engraving Before the Battle is a very handsome picture, presenting the portraits of Minna Irving, the popular poetess and her soldier husband. The fashion-plate and illustrations present some new and effective fall styles. The needlework designs are varied and effective. The opening story, One October Morning, is well illustrated and well written. Imprisoned Rainbows, by Louisa Jamison, closes a series of interesting articles on precious stones. The Watch of the Big Heart Lode, by M. G. McClelland, is one of the best stories we have ever read in a long while, and Three Warnings by Lucy H. Hooper will fascinate every lover of the supernatural. Things Worth Knowing and the household department are brim full of interesting and useful matter. Terms, Two dollars a year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Kingman Letter.

DEER UNCOMMONLY PLENTY IN THE VICINITY—A BUILDING BOOM SEIZES THE TOWN—LUMBERMEN PREPARING FOR THE WOODS—NOTES.

[Special Correspondence Whig and Courier]

KINGMAN, Oct. 15. Dr. A. M. Purington and other gentlemen of Levant, arrived in town last Thursday, and intend to spend a few weeks in the woods of an adjoining town, hunting.

Deer are uncommonly plentiful in this part of the country and many are being shot. There beautiful specimens of this noble denizen of the woods of Maine, come out in the field near the house of Mr. Leonard McMillin last Thursday, and he succeeded in shooting two of them.

Miss Maggie Miles, operator at the railroad station, started one day last week for a month or two's sojourn in Dakota to visit her friend Miss Sadie Brannan, a former resident of this place. She will no doubt enjoy her well-earned vacation and all will welcome her safely home again.

This town has received such an impetus in building this summer as just not been witnessed to it for years. At some later day we may give a list of the new buildings erected and the improvements on the old that one has upon in town. It is said that the town had built up more during this last three years than for the whole of the fifteen previous years.

Mr. L. E. Clark returned from Springfield, Mass., last week.

Judge Stearns and, wife, of Cutler, were visiting friends in town a few days last week.

Shoemakers are making preparations to go into the woods and many have already begun operations. Not to hire for that purpose not said to be correctly entered this fall.

Mr. Wilber Grant has purchased the mill at Crossmate belonging to Messrs. D. C. Porter & Co., and will assume control of it about the first of November.

is that impurity of the blood which produces scrofulous lumps or swellings in the neck, which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, cause consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to foot. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all now of my children look bright and healthy." W. D. C. W. MERRILL.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, Administrator of the estate of James Lowe, late of Argyle, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that the goods and chattels, rights and credits of said deceased, are not sufficient to pay his just debts and charges of administration.

Wherefore your petitioner prays your honor to grant him power to sell by license at public or private sale, and convey the whole of the interest of said deceased in the following described real estate of the deceased (inclusive of the reversion of the widow's dower therein), as the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of any portion, viz.:

One undivided half of a piece of land situated in said Argyle, described as follows: Part of lot number four (4), containing [illegible] rods from the north line of said lot No. 4, and being a strip [illegible] rods wide, extending from the river on the east to the west line of said lot No. 4, adjoining the [illegible] strip sold off said lot No. 4 on the north.—Inquiry land value, expenses of sale, and charges of administration.

Said real estate is the same described in a deed recorded in the Registry of Deeds of said County, Vol. 100, page 315.

Might as Well Admit the Whole Truth.

The Globe knows perfectly well that the history of a protective tariff that has encouraged home production has been to decrease the cost to the consumer.—BANGOR WHIG.

The Globe does know that the progress of civilization, the development of steam, electricity and machinery, the perfection of banking and transportation facilities, and the peace, ingenuity and enterprise of our people, decreased the cost of many kinds of goods to the consumer, not in consequence of the tariff, but in spite of it.—Boston Globe.

The Globe admits so much that it would have been more sensible to have acknowledge the whole truth, but the fact is that conservatism contemporary always gets badly mixed when it tackles the tariff, the reason being that it has never maintained one position on that question long enough to be really familiar with its subject. It wasiously a few years ago when the Morrison bill was defeated in a Democratic House that it maligned as the reason that the Democratic party was not willing to be committed to a free trade policy. Now it is working in the interest of the very policy it then discredited. This last remark applies to its editorial component which it can control, but its news columns which have to be governed by current events contain the antidote. For instance, in a recent editorial it painted a doleful picture of the decay of the woolen industry, while its bankcrt article published in the same issue contained the following:

"Trade during the past week has been much quieter than it was during the previous week. Wool still holds a point of activity. Manufacturers have been greatly encouraged by the passage of the Tariff bill, and are buying larger quantities of wool than usual, in anticipation of an increased demand for their goods.

So it appears from the evidence of the Globe itself that the manufacturers are encouraged not in spite of the tariff but on account of the protection it affords. The Globe admits that the tendency has been toward decreased prices, but attributes the cause to the enterprise and progress of our people. This will not mislead any one, because the intelligent reader knows, as does the Globe, that the foundation of our national growth is a tariff that has afforded our people a chance to develop our resources and thus give full play to their ingenuity and enterprise. The new tariff law will all further valuable our industrial growth by affording needed protection and the tendency will continue to be in the direction of decreased prices, notwithstanding the clamor of the free trade organs which are actuated by a purpose to deceive the voters until after the election.

GEN. BELKNAP'S DEAL.

Incidents in the Life of President Grant's Secretary of War.

A Brilliant Career Suddenly and Badly Darkened.

(Special dispatch to the Boston Journal.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. Geo. W. Belknap, of Iowa, ex Secretary of War, was found dead in his bed this morning in his quarters adjacent to his office in the Evans Building, on New York avenue in this city. General Belknap, during the long absence of his wife and daughter in Europe, for reasons of economy, undoubtedly, had a sleeping room fitted up adjoining his office. That was his home. Mrs. Belknap has been absent from the city most of the summer, and General Belknap seems to have returned to his old quarters for a portion of the season. He was seen about the city on Saturday and that was the last that was seen of him. On Sunday morning the chamber maid who had charge of the building knocked at his room, but failed to find admission. This was not considered unusual, as General Belknap had often been absent from the city on Sunday. This morning, however, when no answer was given to the knock upon the door, an examination was made and the body of Gen. Belknap was found in the bed. The impression is that death must have ensued some time during the night of Saturday. The hand was clasped about the heart, as if there had been pain. The impression is that Gen. Belknap died of a sudden attack of heart disease.

This is a sad ending of a career which had been very prominent in this country. Since the days of the impeached Gen. Belknap had been for the most time a resident of Washington city. His business success had been varied. At times he had been in the enjoyment of a large income, chiefly derived from retainers from railroad corporations whose interests he looked after at the Capitol, and from claims which he prosecuted before the departments. His expenses were quite large, particularly because of his absent family, and it was important that he should secure a considerable income. It is understood that for the last few months he had been in straitened conditions financially. For this reason there have been reports that his death might not have been due to natural causes, but there is nothing to warrant such conclusion. Gen. Belknap had been very dispondent, however, for the last few months. Last winter he had a very severe attack of gout. He recovered from it after a long confinement, but it has been no secret that he has never been as well since.

Although it was denied that he had any attack of para ysis, his gait would seem to indicate that he had had a stroke. He walked slowly with difficulty, and seemed not to have the free movement of his left leg. He had lost a very depressed look, and his usual sunny, genial disposition had become morose. It is evident that Gen. Belknap was in serious financial embarrassment. It appears that it had become necessary for him to make a payment within a few days on the house which he purchased not long since for his family under the penalty of the foreclosure of the mortgage on it. In order to raise the funds he sold an unimproved piece of property on K street near Fifteenth last Friday morning. The results of the sale greatly disappointed him. It is now said that there was a combination among the real estate dealers who were among the bidders to secure the property at a low price, as the financial difficulties were known. Gen. Belknap stated to a friend to whom he has applied to raise some money for him that he had a considerable sum in prospect, but that he was greatly pressed to obtain a sufficient sum for his immediate need.

These complaints weighed upon him, and in such method where to seek his needs that he seemed very despondent for some days, and that, although usually very easy to please and genial in his manners, he had become morose. This was noticed during the day of Saturday. During that afternoon he phaetoned with some difficulty some important business engagement until two o'clock of Tuesday, intimating that before that time something of importance affecting the humiliation would occur. There are those who think that Gen. Belknap had a premonition of sudden death, and may refer to a dream last week of which he is reported to have told his friends. One of the tales of the dream was that he (Gen. Belknap) was talking with Justice Miller when the latter was called away to a

THEIR MISSION IN AMERICA.

Member of the Irish Delegation Makes a Clear Statement

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. Conflicting statements have appeared in regard to the American mission of the Irish leaders and C P Gill, M P., a member of the delegation now in New York, makes an authorized statement to be Associated Press.

The mission was formally resolved upon and delegations chosen at the conference of the Irish Parliamentary party, held at the Mansion House in Dublin, Oct. 6th. The names of the delegates (who will all have arrived in this country within the next fortnight) are Jno. Dillon, M. P., William O'Brien, M P, T. P. O'Connor, M P, T D Sullivan, M. P., Timothy Harrington, M P, and T. P Gill, M. P.

The Object of the Mission is to appeal to the Irish race and all friends of Ireland in America for support for the struggle the Irish people are making to protect their lives, homes and liberties against the combined forces of coercion, landlording and misgovernment, and the advance of the cause which has for its goal the establishment of a native legislature in Dublin, which will enable the Irish people to govern themselves and develop the resources of the country and to fulfil the destiny to which her sons believe she has been called. Mr. Gill wishes it understood that much time will be saved and much will be done towards facilitating the systematic programme of this mission of the representative Irish Americans of the various localities will enter into communication with him at the Fifth Avenue Hotel New York, regarding the dates they consider most suitable for meetings.

A HOTEL CORPSE!

Heavy Loss by Fire in Syracuse, N. Y.

THE FIRST BLAZE KNOWN IN THE CITY FOR YEARS.

At Least Twenty-Five Persons Reported Dead in the Ruins.

Many Persons Jump from the Windows and Meet Death.

One Woman Falls Three Stories While Being Rescued.

Thrilling Scenes Witnessed at the Blazing Ruins.

SYRACUSE, N Y., Oct. 16—3 A. M. The most disastrous fire which has visited Syracuse for many years was discovered in the Leland Hotel at 12 30 this morning.

The fire is still burning fiercely The entire fire department, consisting of nine engines, is working hard

Always witness says he is positive that at least 25 persons have lost their lives and many more are injured.

One woman being lowered from a window by a rope reached a point opposite the third story when the rope became ignited and parted. The woman

Fell to the Pavement

Her brains were dashed out and her body flattened into a shapeless mass. So great is the confusion and excitement that the identity of those killed and injured is wholly unknown

Later Reports

Frank Lefey, of Glens Falls, N. Y., has been identified as one of those killed to death. Many lives were lost by the people who crazed with fright, jumped from the windows.

One man says he saw six people jump from different windows on the opposite street side of the building within the space of four minutes.

The building was provided with fire escapes on outside and ropes on the inside, which were the means of

Saving Many Lives

Burlet Forbes, a stock broker of this city, escaped into the street almost entirely naked He was slightly injured about the hands. He loses a gold watch valued at $500 and all his clothing.

One woman was found with a burning babe in her arms crouched in a stairway, where she had been overcome by smoke.

She was removed and has not yet regained consciousness

The building will be a total loss. It was built two years ago at a cost of $250,000 It was six stories high and contained four hundred rooms.

It is impossible to learn how many guests were in the hotel at the time the fire broke out.

The total loss will not fall short of half a million dollars

The building is partially covered by insurance, but it is impossible to calculate how much insurance was carried on the hotel, furniture or private and individual losses

BOOT AND SHOE CLUB BANQUET.

Senator Hale Speaks on Reciprocity with Central and South America.

BOSTON, Oct. 15 The Boston Boot and Shoe Club dined at Young's this evening, having as guests Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine, Hon. George B. Loring, Collector A. W. Beard, of Boston. About 150 members were in attendance. Frank A. P. Emery was in the chair. Senator Hale spoke at considerable length on reciprocity with the Central and South American States. The law which he supported was a plain business proposition to open up, either by treaty or legislation, to the producers of our country the markets of the countries south of us which can and will pay us in articles which we do not produce, but

Which We Need

and desire. It is no infraction of the doctrine of protection; on the contrary it is a helper to that doctrine. Reciprocity but is looked to bring about consists in so dealing with the governments of these Southern countries in the way of mutual adjustment of tariff duties as will stimulate this interchange of articles of trade. The story of our trade relations with these countries in the past is not pleasant to recite. It is a story of importations, paid for by our own money, not by which these countries need as much as we need theirs. An objection urged against this is that nothing can be done with these southern countries in the way of reciprocal arrangements of treaties. The answer to this is that we have already negotiated treaties with Spain and Mexico which failed to be ratified or become operative, which show the willingness of those countries to enter into the scheme, and in other countries, with hardly an exception, all indications point to such a willingness on the part of their governments for such arrangement. The truth is these countries for association, in friendship and political alliance. They have paid tribute to long years to Great Britain, Germany and France and they turn naturally to the greatest of all American republics with the desire for political sympathy closer relations and increased trade. The President discovered this, Mr. Blaine discovered this, the American people discovered this and Congress at last discovered that this only remained to put the plan in operation. Side by side with this scheme for reciprocity go great measures which the Senate, under the lead of Senator Frye, has passed for the encouragement and aid of our Commercial Marine.

With two great shipping bills harnessed with reciprocity, the speaker said he looked forward to a bright future for our trade and commerce with the countries lying to the southward. He expected to see embarrassments and delays, but if the Government once set its shoulder fairly to the wheel the vehicle will move and will and thenceforward be stopped.

Brief speeches were made by Dr. Loring and Collector Beard.

NEW TARIFF RATES.

Circular Sent to Collectors of Customs from the Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. The following was sent by Assistant Secretary Spaulding of the Treasury Department, to the Collectors of Customs at the various ports:

Referring to the decisions of the Board of General Appraisers, August 16th, last, and the 19th ult., which held that merchandise remaining in a warehouse under bond more than a year prior to August 1st, last, is liable to the additional duty of 10 per cent prescribed by section 1,007, Revised Statutes, when withdrawn for consumption after that date, you are informed that in advising with the United States Attorney-General, he concludes to reconsider that decision so far as it merchandise similarly situated. You will be governed accordingly.

In the case of the withdrawal of such merchandise entered from your port, you are not called upon to collect the additional duty, provided the importer shall give a bond, with approved sureties, in a penal sum not exceeding the value of the merchandise, conditioned for the payment of the duty, in case the decision of the Board of General Appraisers should be sustained by the Supreme Court.

A STORM OF APPLAUSE

Speaker Reed on Addressing a Buffalo Audience.

He Replies to Some of the Questions of the Democracy.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 15. Hon. Thomas B. Reed addressed over 3,000 people at Music Hall to-night. Speaker Reed was given a royal reception. He was escorted to Music Hall by the Republican League Club, and upon being introduced by Chairman Becker was greeted with a storm of applause. After thanking the audience for the cordial welcome, he said:

I intended to address you to-night on the living issues of the day, but will vary the order. I have been respectfully requested by the Democratic Club to answer certain questions. I am so little used to

from the Democratic party in the region where the usual part of my duties have been performed that I feel inclined on account of this remarkable phenomena to comply with the request and further because the questions are quite easy.

The first question is. Do I consider the McKinley bill out to the poor?

Well, I should say so. A bill which has for its object the raising of the wages of the poor and at the same time to lower the price of necessities would seem to me to be not only just but generous. This club desires to know whether any instances can be given where wages have been raised by high tariff bill.

The McKinley Bill

has been in operation nine days. It shows remarkable brilliancy on the part of the club that they expect wages to be raised in that time by that bill If they read the morning newspapers they would learn that manufacturers of pearl buttons are reported to have raised the wages of their men 15 per cent on account of the McKinley bill What shall it profit the young free trader if he only loses Grover Cleveland and never reads the Mugwump papers

Another question is if protection makes high wages why is it that the people of New South Wales have than protected France? The question is. Whether protection causes higher wages than in a country under free trade. That question is answered by the United States under thirty years of Republican rule. Everyone knows that the wages of the laboring man in the United States are higher to-day than in 1853, at the close of the free trade period

Still another question is can it make any satisfactory that we have lowered in price by the McKinley or any other tariff bill? I can spend one evening doing that

I Remember Paying

$ 25 a yard for ingrain carpet which I can buy to-day for 45 cents. Iron nails cost 20 a keg then, steel ones are now $1.30

Mr. Reed said the tariff agitation of the past seven years should now cease in the interest of business. He spoke of the obstruction tactics of the Democrats in the last session of Congress and urged the necessity of the federal elect on law.

Mr. Reed goes to Ohio to speak in Mr. McKinley's district.

DEAD RIVER NEWS A gentleman who returned yesterday from a trip to the northern part of the State reports that the underpinning and sills for the new Canadian Pacific depot at Schoodic are in place, and good progress is being made. At Schoodic the Canadian Pacific company is constructing a side track to hold thirty cars, and quite a large amount of money, several thousand dollars, is being laid out there The Maine Central Company is to construct a new freight shed at Mattawamkeag and work will begin next week. A large freight business is being done in that region, the trains being long and the cars full of merchandise, and the new shed is necessary in order to accommodate the merchandise which is being taken back and forth The business in that part of the State, as well as in other parts along the line, has never been better

FOOT BALL Then for Bowdoin is the only college in Maine represented by a foot ball team, but there is talk of forming one at the Maine State College, and it is to be hoped the idea may be carried out. There is good athletic material there and with proper training a good eleven could be organized. Bates had a team last year but none this year. The Bowdoin team is now taking daily training under a trainer and the men, the majority of whom were in last year's team, are fast getting into good trim for the hard work which will be necessary in the championship games with Dartmouth, Amherst, Williams and the Institute of Technology. This month the eleven will go to Cambridge and play the Harvards who have the best team this year which has ever represented the college There are two eleven at Bowdoin and they practice together every afternoon. Mr. J. M. Hastings of this city has been paying centre rush for the first eleven, and will probably keep the position There is material for a first class eleven, and with good training, and hard work, a good showing should be made in the New England League. The first game will occur November 1st, when Dartmouth and Bowdoin will play at Hanover, N H.

FOR THE PATRONS OF THE TELEPHONE. Superintendent C. L. Collamore of the Telephone Exchange writes The Wing to regard to the inquiries and questions about trouble with the telephone service which he receives almost daily. He states that the company began business in 1880 in this city and has invested thousands of dollars in the endeavor to perfect its service. That good service was given up to the date of the advent of the electric railroad, it has been proven by the growth of over seven hundred subscribers. The telephone troubles come from the heavy electric currents from the electric light and power wires, but principally from the electric railroad. The extension of the road and the transfer of the source of power to Veazie have caused the troubles to largely increase. The electric current for an electric railroad should be returned to the source where it originates. To save expense the railroad company is trying to return it to Veazie by connecting their wires to the water pipes, the earth and river, without authority. These become electrically charged and the telephone wires are affected. The same result is produced at the central office as when the subscriber rings the bell, and the operators cannot tell whether they are wanted or not. Individual telephones are also magnetized and do not respond to calls from the central office. The noise on the wires makes it necessary for almost all conversations to be repeated by the operators, whose labors are increased and their ability to answer promptly lessened. Under the most favorable construction there will be some interference between the railroad and the telephone, but the means of overcoming it is being made the subject of scientific study. Mr. Collamore assures the patrons that everything possible will be done to maintain the service and different lines will be put on as fast as possible and give the best service.

Miss Lillian Percival, of Boston, is the guest of Mrs. C. S. Lunt, on Boynton street.

SHIPBUILDING IN MAINE. Shipbuilding in Maine has been a thriving industry during the past year, quite a number of vessels having been constructed in that time. In this port two have been built, the schooners Otis F and Gertrude A Bartlett and the barkentine Thomas J. Stewart is now a process of construction. Some new vessels have been constructed at Belfast and at other places on the coast. At Searsport in A. J. Nickerson's yard there is a three-masted schooner on the stocks. Her dimensions are Length, 163 feet; breadth, 36 feet; depth, 12 feet, and her tonnage will be about 650 tons. She has a hardwood bottom, juniper knees and yellow pine ceiling and planking. C. Dutch has been master builder and she is considered one of the best constructed vessels ever built in Searsport She is now all planked and will be launched during the present month She has been built for the West Indies trade and will be commanded by Capt. William R. Gilkey of Searsport As soon as the Gilkey schooner is launched a barkentine is to be set up for Captain William Meyers, of Searsport. Her dimensions will be length 156 feet; breadth, 36 feet, depth, 14 feet, and probable tonnage. She will have the same master builder and will have a hardwood bottom, juniper, and yellow pine ceiling and planking, the material being all in the yard now. Knowlton Bros, of Camden, will make the blocks, anchors and all the heavy iron work The barkentine is intended for the South American trade

FALL AND WINTER STYLES

At T H. Coombs' millinery store there was a crowd all day from the time of the opening of the store in the morning until its close in the evening The store was tastefully decorated and the hats and bonnets were displayed to good advantage for the admiring eyes of the visitors to the store A hoop in the window was covered with beautiful birds, while there was a beautiful pyramid of feathers on the showcase, both going to show that the summer season, with its flower garden, is past and the popular trimmings will be in feathers and birds while on many jets and beads will be in favor. For colors ocean gray, turquoise, blue and heliotrope will be the reigning colors, and coques, pokes and turbans, will be popular, with tam o' shanters and broad hats for children We saw some pretty pokes of black velvet, with the trimming mostly on the back and a broad double brim with ties, some large hats with yellow and drabs the prevailing colors in their arrangement

MRS. E STEVENS.

A brisk walk up Hammond street until we were opposite the Lowder brought us to Mrs. E Stevens' pleasant parlors, where we found a large number of ladies intent on examining the newest styles in shapes, colors and trimmings Mrs Stevens showed us a very pretty imported hat with fur trimming, which will be very popular this winter There were many different varieties, some others of them imported, a bonnet of jet points, making a head covering of rather open work, a few of which style will be worn, although they are rather cool for this climate Steel and gilt combinations are very popular and will be worn much both on hats and bonnets, while a very pretty hat is one that is rather pointed, with a feather at the back and a trimming in front shaped like a butterfly's wings, the outside of black velvet and the lining of yellow, which is very prominent in the trimmings of the hat.

MRS. F QUINN

At Mrs F. Quinn's store on Main street the room was filled all day with her customers and friends. Mrs. Quinn has just returned from New York and has a full line of the latest styles in hats and bonnets of all the popular shades, a great deal of ribbon of the latest and most fashionable shade being displayed in different parts of the store. She has been busy for some time with the assistance of her milliners getting ready for the opening and has surpassed all her former efforts at display in the fine goods she exhibits in such a variety of pleasing combinations. Mrs. Quinn cannot fail to have her share of the ladies' patronage as her hats and bonnets strike one as a gimpse as entirely new and quite different from those that have been worn.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

CHARLES F SWEET, Esq., Clerk.

Wednesday, Oct. 15.

The cases of Hathorn vs. Fleming and Fleming vs. Hathorn continued on trial to-day.

Meeting of the Governor and Council.

Every member of the Council was present at the meeting Tuesday afternoon says the Kennebec Journal. Petitioners for the pardon of Edward Prowbridge, now in prison for obtaining money under false pretenses, did not appear, and at the request of council the hearing was put over till the next meeting. The same was done with the pardon case of George W. Denton, convicted of murder in the winter of 1887 in the county of Androscoggin and sentenced to prison for life. Other business which came up at the afternoon and evening sessions was of a routine nature On motion of Councillor Carr from Sagadahoc, the following order was passed:

Ordered, That the Secretary of State be requested to lay before the Governor and Council the returns of the election of September 10, 1890.

Referred to the committee on election returns.

Pleasant Wedding Ceremony

A pleasant wedding occurred yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mr. George W. Spratt, the contracting parties being his daughter, Miss Harriet Watson Spratt and Mr. Elmer O. Goodridge, of Hampton, Va. The ceremony was pleasingly performed by Rev. C. H. Cutler, of the First Parish church, in the presence of only relatives and a few neighbors. The large number of beautiful presents displayed testified to the popularity of both bride and groom, many of them coming from distant parts of the country. The bride is a young lady of many accomplishments and highly esteemed by her large circle of friends.

The groom is one worthy of her choice, Mr. Elmer O. Goodridge, of Hampton, Va., in charge of the Mechanical Engineering Department of the Hampton Institute. Mr. Goodridge was formerly a Milo boy, was graduated at the State College, class of '88, as mechanical engineer, was with Baldwin & Coombs, of this city, in civil engineering during that summer, and for three years following was engaged as civil engineer in Montana on a railroad.

After the marriage ceremony a wedding dinner was served and the happy couple left on the afternoon train for a trip to Moosehead Lake, on their return from which they will make their home for their winter, being comfortably fitted by the best wishes of their many friends.

AMUSEMENTS

"A Royal Pass"

Although Mr. George C. Staley, in "A Royal Pass," has never visited us previous to this season, he has established a reputation in other cities that entitles him to a respectful consideration. He is described as a handsome man, of great dramatic ability, especially in comedy, which is his forte. He is a sweet singer and introduces some very beautiful songs and lullabys during the course of the play "A Royal Pass" is said to be highly interesting and amusing, richly and picturesquely constructed and interpreted by a strong company. Mr. Staley and his company will appear at the Opera House to-morrow and Saturday evenings

"Boston Symphony Orchestral Club"

This organization, which will appear at the Opera House next Monday evening, opened its season at Fall River, Mass last Monday night The following telegram from that city appears in the Boston Herald of Tuesday

The reorganized Boston Symphony Orchestral Club began the fifth annual concert tour under Manager Max Bachert, at the Academy of Music this evening, and a large and fashionable audience was in attendance The organization has an established reputation here, and its concerts have made a leading feature of each musical season since its first appearance in this city. The membership of the club for this season includes Alfred de Sève, leader and violin, Richard Poltmann, violinist, H Streletzer, viola and viola d'amour, Ernst Guhlhey, cello, Fr Rueppey, flute, Frederick Dreibrodt, contra bass, and Fr Anna C Mantell, vocalist. The programme was well arranged to display the abilities of the several soloists of the club, as well as to exhibit the strength of the organization in ensemble playing, and its performance fully proved that Manager Bachert has a combination of artists for the season superior, in many ways, to any he has controlled in former years

A BURNING SORE LEG

Ulcers Form. Hospitals and Doctors Useless. Crazed with Pain. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

About eight years ago I wrote you from Williamsburg, Pa., describing how your wonderful remedies completely cured me of a terrible case of eczema on my left leg. I must now tell you what Cuticura Remedies have again done for me. On the 22d of last September, I had the misfortune to bruise my leg and I put a piece of sticking plaster on it. Inside of a week I had a terrible leg. My wife became frightened and advised me to go to a surgeon. I went, and doctored for two months, but no good was done me beside costing me big money. My leg had by this time formed into an ulcer and got worse every day. I could not stand it any longer, and made up my mind to go to a hospital and get it I could be helped. I went to several here in the city in turn but none could do me any good. I had a terrible leg with a hole in it as big as a dollar, and pain that almost set me crazy. I got scared about it and determined to try Cuticura Remedies. I obtained a set and inside of five weeks my leg was healed up as well as it ever was, except the terrible scar is left for a reminder of what was once a terrible sore leg These Remedies are worth their weight in gold.

A Palmyra Man Loses his Money but he Gains Wisdom.

Charitable Bequests in the Will of a Portland Lady.

Gambling.

Capt. Ruggles, of Westport, N. S., was a surprised man the other day. He is in the habit of bringing up to Portland a cargo of live eels from Nova Scotia and shipping them to New York. Monday he came in with two tons in the schooner James Beckwith. He was more than astonished when told that the Lackey bill provided that he should pay three-quarters of a cent per pound on his slippery customers.

Joseph Easler, a laborer of Portland, has a housekeeper named Mrs. Herrick, who has three children, one of whom lived at Easler's. Monday, it is claimed that Easler nearly bit the ear off one of the children. That night the other two, a young man and a young woman were at the house. Easler was on the bed cutting tobacco with his knife. The elder boy picked a quarrel with Easler and in the scrimmage he cut the young woman very out about the hands with the knife. Easler was also cut about the head. It is thought the cutting was unintentional. Easler was arrested and taken to the station.

Sunday night, Mr and Mrs George MacGowan, of Portland, went to bed at their house on Franklin street, closing the drafts of the stove. But in early hours of the morning Mr MacGowan awoke with a bad headache. But soon dropped off to sleep again. About three o'clock Mrs. MacGowan awoke, and found herself hardly able to breathe from coal gas. She tried to arouse her husband, but was unable to do so, and throwing open the window she mustered strength to reach a neighbor's house and sensation to go when exhausted nature gave way, and she did not to be carried home. Her husband was found unconscious, but the physicians soon aroused him. In the afternoon he was able to sit up, but his wife is still confined to her bed, and seems to suffer the most serious effects from the experience.

The will of the late Mrs. J. Walker, of Portland, makes these public bequests: To the parish committee and trustees of the First Congregational church in Windham, $5000, the income to be used towards the pastor's salary or to pay ministers who officiate on the Sabbath. Bangor Theological Seminary, $5000, Mount Vernon's Board of Foreign Missions when branch place of business is in Portland $5000, Maine Missionary Society, $5000, Home for Aged Women, $2000, Female Orphan Asylum, $2000, Female Provident Association, $1000, Maine Industrial School for girls, $2000.

The engagement is announced in a Washington dispatch of Miss Alice Dahlgren, daughter of Mrs. Madeline Vinton Dahlgren, to Mr. Justin Pierce, Jr., of Portland. Mr. Pierce is a graduate of Cambridge, and has spent most of the last years in Europe. The marriage will take place next spring, and they will spend the summer in Europe.

Wednesday, when the Bowdoins play the Roxburys on the latter's grounds at Dorring, many of the Portland boys will go from Brunswick, and if the day is fine a large crowd will witness the contest. The interest in football is increasing in Maine, and if Bowdoin is able to prove to be strong the sport will get a permanent foothold among the colleges. The Bowdoins will play several games in Portland this fall, and before the season is over they will play the Harvards either there or at Cambridge.

A pitiful story that of the widow at Long Island, who last Saturday left her five little children, hungry and cold, to go on a drunken spree, which ended in her being locked up and the children left destitute until taken care of by the charitable societies. Of the five children, the oldest was only thirteen years old, while the youngest was a babe of four months.

Somerset.

A second meeting of women of Waterville especially interested in temperance reform, was held Monday afternoon. The report of the special committee appointed to consider a constitution and plan of organization, was then read. The substance of a letter from City Marshal Gallagher was given, stating that the Marshal would be glad to co-operate with the ladies in securing the closing of the liquor selling establishments in the city. The various articles of the constitution were gone over separately and accepted as well as a pledge to be signed by those becoming members of the organization which is to be known as the Waterville Women's Christian Temperance Union. The pledge as accepted provides against the sale and drinking of intoxicating liquors, wine or cider as a beverage. It is to be circulated. A petition calling on the mayor to use all the official influence against the sale in the city was read, accepted, and a committee of twelve ladies appointed to present the same to the mayor.

Congressman William R. Morse of the Chicago district, spoke at the Waterville state meeting of August 19 last. The fact was noted in the press, and the Washington Star placed it upon a memorandum, saying that Mr. Morse had not been absent from the capital. But he was, and this is how he did it. Reporting to the house and answering the roll-call, on the 29th, Thursday—he took the three o'clock Boston sleeper at 3 15 P M, and the Provincial Express from Boston at 8 A M on Friday, arriving at Waterville at 1.30 P M, in season to address the people of Maine. Then leaving Waterville, Friday afternoon by the Flying Yankee, he was in Washington on Saturday before his absence was noticed.

They are trying, now, to get a government survey of the river from Augusta up, with the view of having the improvements made in the much obstructed channel. But whatever the government authorities may conclude to do, the company does not propose to simply wait and do nothing. It has hired a crew of men and is blowing out the boulders at Philip's Rips just below Waterville, and one of the worst stretches on the river. With the rips cleared and the logs kept moving interfering the boom can run to Waterville without government work on the channel. But under these conditions, navigation must necessarily be rather slow, while a good channel is cleared by Uncle Sam much greater speed can be made.

Exeter.

Rev. Warren Applebee, late pastor of the Union church at Vinalhaven, closed his labors last Sunday. Mr. Applebee has a call to labor as a state missionary in Vermont. He has the matter under consideration but has not accepted the situation yet. As a token of esteem the people of Mr. Applebee's parish here presented him with a purse of over $50 at the close of his labors with them.

An enthusiastic meeting of the working men was held in Vinalhaven last week and a committee appointed to act for with different parties in relation to the eight hour adjustment bill which was laid aside just before the adjournment of congress.

While Joel Hobart, of East Madison, was making repairs in the new house, a few days ago, the timber which he was standing upon gave way and fell to the ground, a distance of seven feet. By the crash the frame of the old farmhouse, log house, moved three rods. It is a good illustration of not proof fact, although he is in a robust condition. Mr. Hobart is one of the injury of the Hobart horse mail well and favorably known throughout Somerset county.

A Tel town man who visited Harbinger city, Kansas, reports that the gambling games, there are called "shell game." There was a twinkle in his eyes and he could tell how (?) the ball is particular. He accordingly spanked down a five-dollar note to win a time, and picked up the shell. But lo! the ball was not under it. He thought that perhaps he did not watch it closely enough, and this time he drew forth a ten-dollar note to win a twenty. Again he located the ball, and again he missed it. He got excited. He knew there was money in the game if one only went at it just right; but unfortunately he failed to observe that the "other fellow" was the one who was making the money. A third trial would surely win, and he pulled out another five-dollar note. This failed to win any bonus, and went with the other fifteen dollars, making twenty dollars he had invested in what he thought was a sure thing. His first lesson cost him dearly, but he is a wiser man now.

The Prize Letter.

ON "ECONOMY IN HOUSE FURNISHING AND HOUSEKEEPING"—WHOSE AUTHOR, MISS ANNIE B. MCGRATH, OF BANGOR, WAS AWARDED FIRST PRIZE, A QUAKER RANGE, BY THE ATKINSON CO.

The following is the letter of Miss Annie B. McGrath of this city on "Economy in House Furnishing and Housekeeping," which was awarded the first prize in the competition for the prizes offered by the Atkinson House Furnishing Company during the last Eastern Maine State Fair exhibition. Our young friends who are contemplating housekeeping in the near or remote future, as well as the older people, will no doubt be considerably interested in the production of Miss McGrath, which was designed to be the best among many letters submitted from young ladies under eighteen years of age from all parts of the State:

Bangor Sept. 13

Atkinson House Furnishing Co.,

Gents:—Enclosed please find letter on article on "House Furnishing and House Keeping" competing for prizes offered by you. My age is sixteen, born January 25, 1874.

ANNIE B. MCGRATH
210 Main street, Bangor, Me.

The problem of economy in house-furnishing and housekeeping is a difficult one to solve and will undoubtedly be subject matter for essays and lectures for an indefinite period. I shall endeavor to confine my essay to matter pertaining to practical ideas in house furnishing and house keeping. Not having entered the "blissful state of matrimony," my conclusions are based on a limited experience, observation and judgment. Let us then take the subject as it presents itself, house furnishing first, as house keeping naturally follows when the house is equipped.

"Home, sweet home! Be it ever so humble there is no place like home." The sentiment these lines contain is indeed sublime and is more truthful than poetic. Hallowed and sanctified by a pure and holy love, strengthened with the bond of mutual respect and forbearance, woman is in her natural element in the home and man is a veritable king. "Monarch of all he surveys," in fact, a paradise for both.

Here the offspring are ushered into existence and their course in life shaped through careful training and good example. To this place we turn when oppressed by adversity and sorrow. How necessary then that great care should be exercised in selecting household furnishing making home the most attractive and comfortable abiding place for man and woman.

With what joyful glee the young bride anticipates the new home over which she is to reign. With unfeigned pride she expresses to her husband her preferences in regard to furnishings, and suggests a visit to the "Atkinson House Furnishing Co.," where a large and well-selected stock can be seen.

Money being an essential factor in purchasing, one must be governed in a measure by the amount of cash on hand; however, one need not go without furniture for lack of cash, as business is done here on the "liberal credit system," which enables one to buy desirable goods and reserve a portion of the surplus earnings to meet emergencies. The system is a grand one, for the reason that we purchase better goods and become more thrifty.

It would be advisable to prepare a list of goods needed and also to request the salesman to render this valuable assistance in which his long experience makes him proficient.

The kitchen, "Woman's domain," should be first to receive attention. A good range which is a source of delight to housekeepers, and here let me say the famous "Quaker" which you offer as the first prize is "good enough for me." Why? For reasons that are plain and simple! You guarantee the workmanship and quality of castings, you recommend it as a superb baker and heater and those who are fortunate possessors are unstinted in their praise of the merits of the "Quaker."

The castings are solid and plain, thus making the range durable and easy to keep bright and pleasing to the eye, or in other words a "joy forever." It strikes me the company have succeeded in placing before the public a range with many improvements over others and gives splendid equivalent for the money invested. Durability, not glitter, should decide the economical buyer, size of range to be governed by the size of kitchen, elevated not closet and reservoir are desirable additions if the purse can stand it. The kitchen floor should be covered with good quality oil cloth, making the room attractive and saving labor, as it cleanses easily. Six substantial hard wood chairs and a table without drop leaves and with drawers to keep towels, etc. This makes a practical looking table—medium price inexpensive—a good supply of tinware, such as cooking utensils, spice boxes, coffee and tea boxes, etc—a few articles in common crockery and cutlery—which to me, clothed wringer and patent five-gallon oil can leaves this room quite complete.

The dining room requires taste in selecting—for the floor an ingrain square or woolen carpet—medium price oak side-board, pillar extension table and polished bent wood chairs to match. One hundred and twelve pieces stone china dinner set, neat pattern—knives, forks and spoons (Rogers Bros. reliable goods), glass-ware, a few pretty pictures, game and fish panels and one fruit group—economies, attractive surroundings. "Eat, drink and be merry."

The sitting-room where the family gathers most frequently should be furnished with an eye to comfort and durability. Best grade tapestry for floor and few Smyrna rugs, couch instead of lounge, getting extra width and softness, easy chair, large platform rocker upholstered wool damask or hair cloth, finley rocker and foot rest, square table, (walnut choice of woods,) plain upright, plushes and medium priced lace curtains, mantel mirror and clock, open book case and sewing machine, work basket and pictures, medium price, good "bed plate," (patent screws, etc.,) daybed and cushions.

The parlor—hospitable and inviting should be excellent to the critical observer. Best body Brussels and choice rugs, gilded mahogany suite, parlor rock, two grade rocking chairs, assorted colors, Scribble edge silk, partly stuffed w'n hair, square table in hearth and base, lace or ecru window shades, Hall air rocker, mahogany stand and high cushions, "Ada" Brussels carpet, one of Hallet, Davis & Co's best pianos, Wash pictures, etc., etc.

Would have plain for organ if circumstances allowed. Pictures (engravings, photogravures and etchings) and choice parlor lamp.

The chamber—One third of our lifetime we pass in the chamber. Here comfort and simplicity should prevail. A woolen carpet, (best grade) small design and soft colors; one or two rugs, antique polished oak chamber set, long glass, plain opaque shades and soft Madras curtains, toilet set, rattan rocker (taking place of two chairs), best woven wire springs, hair mattress, pillows, blankets, etc.

Spare chamber—Straw matting, seamless low price, ash or oberry chamber set, plain opaque shades, woven wire springs, wool top mattress, pillows, etc.

Properly cooked food is the stay of life. The raw material purchased of best quality to tickle the palate, variety of food for each day:

Breakfast—Pure aromatic coffee, graham rolls and soft boiled eggs or oatmeal, griddle cakes and sausage.

Dinner—Rare roast beef, lamb or veal, vegetables and light farinaceous pudding.

Supper—Meat or fish cakes, rolled oats or boiled corn, home made preserves, bread and butter, milk or tea.

Nutritious food creates blood and strength. The beginning influences the end.

Interesting to Ladies Only!
The McKinley bill has passed. You are more interested in politics than you supposed, for the bill will raise the prices of many articles. Already Carpets have felt the effect. Seven to ten cents is the rise at the mills. Carpets will go up steadily, for it is a year or two since the manufacturers have made any money.
We are selling Carpets at usual prices. Buy now. Our stock is the most hand some line we ever had. Our prices as low as ever. We thought you would be pleased to know about the increase likely to take place soon.?
It will cost Chamber Sets and Parlor Suits too. Already we find a dollar being added here and fifty cents there. Our advice is buy now. Call into the store and see the beautiful goods we are showing. No finer in America.
Our store is doing a good business. We are grateful for your patronage. We shall endeavor by low prices and fine goods to hold your trade.

NOTICE.
We wish to inform our customers and the public that we have commenced the Oyster season and shall carry
ALL GRADES OF OYSTERS AS USUAL.
Our Oysters are opened in Boston and come by express each morning, so you can feel perfectly safe in ordering of us.
Remember, we make a special business of the retail oyster trade, and like everything else in our line of goods, will not sell poor goods to anybody, neither will we misrepresent our goods for the sake of selling a little more of anything.
Yours Respectfully,
